

ABeam Consulting Acquires Qorval Integrated Solutions

Irving, Texas; May 1, 2006 - ABeam Consulting Ltd. (based in Tokyo: Representative Director and President, Kazumasa Nishioka) announced the acquisition of Qorval Integrated Solutions, Inc. (QI Solutions) a rapid growing U.S. consultancy on April 25. This acquisition further enhances ABeam's position as one of the fastest growing full service global consulting firms. QI Solutions, a Dallas, Texas based firm with broad service offerings, is known in the U.S. for their senior consulting and industry-focused approach in solving complex business problems by combining management and technology consulting.

QI Solutions will quickly be integrated with ABeam Consulting U.S. to strengthen Abeam's global approach to the North American market. This will expand ABeam's services to North American companies while continuing to provide unique services to Japanese and other Asian enterprises in the U.S.

William R. Muns will be CEO of ABeam Consulting U.S. and will join the ABeam Global Management Committee. Al Fisher, ABeam's Global Senior Advisor, will be Chairman.

With the acquisition of QI Solutions, ABeam Consulting will have offices in Dallas, Boston and Cleveland in addition to its current offices in New York and Los Angeles.

About ABeam Consulting

ABeam Consulting is one of the leading business consulting firms, providing professional services in the areas of strategy, BRP, information technology and outsourcing through its global network centering on Asia and North America. About 2400 consultants serve companies in a wide range of industries, such as manufacturing, financial services, consumer business, energy, telecommunications, the media as well as the public sector.