Dental Implants

CID Capital is pleased to announce the close of a $1.5 million investment in Atlantis Components, Inc., a Cambridge, MA-based dental implant company.

Atlantis produces a family of patient-specific dental abutments used in dental implant tooth restorations. The Atlantis[®] Abutment is the first computer-designed abutment made to be anatomically correct for each patient's individual oral condition.

Atlantis has received FDA 510(k) clearance, built a staff of 50 and launched the product in the US. The abutment has drawn considerable attention from the dental industry as breakthrough articles have recently appeared in major dental journals.

The capital from this financing round will be used to expand sales and marketing efforts.
